

Understanding Behavioral Styles for Managers

How to interact and communicate effectively with everyone you manage

ON-LINE | SELF PACED COURSE

It's said that successful managers can "read people like a book." This valuable trait isn't some mysterious intuition – it's a skill you can learn. The way people behave in normal business interactions reveals what they are like – and how you should relate to them as a manager.

Understanding Behavioral Styles for Managers shows you how to use behavioral knowledge and adaptive skills to communicate effectively with everyone – even those with "difficult" personalities.

Start by gaining valuable insight into your own behavioral style. Then, you'll learn to recognize and categorize the different styles of behavior you observe in others. As you gain practical experience, you will appreciate how personal styles always affect managerial interactions. By quickly adapting your behavior to optimize your communications with each individual, you'll be able manage relationships more perceptively – and become the kind of manager that can "read people like a book!"

These insights and techniques are also helpful when managing relationships outside of the workplace.

[COURSE OVERVIEW]

The eleven-lesson course can be taken at your own pace; average completion time is approximately two hours. Interactive graphics, audio, text, animation, quizzes and practical application exercises make every lesson so engaging and entertaining, you will be astonished at how much you've learned! The Knowledge Assessment at the end enables the learner to test his or her learning. An acceptable score will generate a Certificate of Completion.
